In recent years, the issue of whether or not to vaccinate children and/or adults has become somewhat controversial. To determine what true public opinion is about vaccinations among Louisianians, the Louisiana Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics (LAAAP) engaged JMC Analytics and Polling to conduct a 16 question survey.

Key Takeaways:

- 1 Respondents demonstrated solid support for
- 2 There was a minimal gender and/or racial gap in
- 3 In multiple instances, support for vaccinations
